

PEACE TREATY IN HANDS OF GERMANS

PACT REDUCES HUNS AS MILITARY POWER

Calls for Restoration of Alsace and Lorraine to France, Deprives Germany of Her Colonies and Provides for Reparation to the Nations Injured by Huns in the War

VERSAILLES, May 7.—(By The Associated Press)—Germany today was told the terms upon which the allied and associated powers will make peace with her.

These terms were contained in a treaty some 80,000 words in length which was handed to the German plenipotentiaries at a memorable assemblage here attended by the delegates of the twenty-seven nations which are parties to the peace pact.

The treaty, it is noted has to do with Germany alone except in so far as it is required that she accept agreements made by the allies with the other central powers. The document, long as it is, is shorter than was indicated by some of the forecasts, which estimated its length at 100,000 words.

The treaty is not printed in German. The text is in French and English on opposite pages.

Following is the address of M. Clemenceau to the German delegates at the peace congress today:

"Gentlemen, plenipotentiaries of the German empire: "It is neither the time nor the place for superfluous words. You have before you the accredited plenipotentiaries of all the small and great powers united to fight together in the war that has been so cruelly imposed upon them. The time has come when we must settle our account.

"You have asked for peace. We are ready to give you peace. We shall present to you now a book which contains our conditions. You will be given every facility to examine these conditions and the time necessary for it. Everything will be done with the courtesy that is the privilege of civilized nations.

"To give you my thought completely you will find us ready to give you any explanation you want, but we must say at the time that this second treaty of Versailles has cost us too much not to take on our side all the necessary precautions and guarantees that the peace shall be a lasting one.

"I will give you notice of the procedure that has been adopted by the conference for discussion and if anyone has any observations to offer he will have the right to do so. No oral discussion is to take place and the observations of the German delegation will have to be submitted in writing.

"The German plenipotentiaries will know that they have the maximum period of fifteen days within which to present in English and French their written observations on the whole of the treaty. Before the expiration of the aforesaid period of fifteen days the German delegates will be entitled to send their reply on particular headings of the treaty or to ask questions in regard to them. After having examined the observations presented within the aforementioned period the supreme council will send their answer in writing to the German delegation and to present in English and French the final global (world-wide) answer must be given by this delegation.

"The president wishes to add that when we receive after two or three or four or five days, any observations from the German delegation on any point of the treaty we shall not wait until the end of the fifteen days to give our answer. We shall at once proceed in the way indicated by this document.

Clemenceau spoke in French. Paul Dutaast, secretary-general of the peace conference, delivered a copy of the treaty to Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German delegation, who said:

"We declare that we do not deny the extent of our defeat. We know the power of the German armies is broken. He was unable to admit that Germany was solely culpable and demanded that the allies make peace according to President Wilson's points.

"Germany pledged itself to repair the wrong done to Belgium and gave assurance of the reconstitution of the territories in northern France.

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau asked for the liberation of German prisoners and said that Germany adopted the league of nations.

Pledge Support to France. New York, May 7.—The treaty of peace submitted to the German delegates today reduces Germany to military impotence, deprives her of her colonies, restores Alsace and Lorraine to France and provides for reparation to the nations injured by her in the war. This was made known in an official summary of the treaty cabled to the committee on public information in New York. At the same time official announcement was made that President Wilson had pledged himself to propose to the senate an agreement that the United States in conjunction with Great Britain would go to the assistance of France in case of an unprovoked attack by Germany.

Summary of Peace Treaty Handed to Hun Delegates

PARIS, May 7.—The treaty of peace between the twenty seven allied and associated powers, on the one hand, and Germany on the other, was handed to the German plenipotentiaries at Versailles today.

"It is the longest treaty ever drawn. It totals about 80,000 words (divided into fifteen main sections) and represents the combined product of over a thousand experts working continually through a series of commissions for three and a half months since January 18th, the treaty printed in parallel pages of English and French which are recognized as having equal validity. It does not deal with questions affecting Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey except insofar as binding Germany to accept any agreement reached with those former allies.

"Following the preamble and disposition of powers comes the covenant of the league of nations as the first section of the treaty. The frontiers of Germany in Europe are defined in the second section; European political clauses given in the third and extra European political clauses in the fourth. Next are the military, naval and air terms, and the fifth section, followed by a section on prisoners of war and military graves, and a seventh on responsibilities. Reparations, financial terms and economic terms are covered in sections eight to ten. Then comes the aeronautical section, ports, waterways and railways section, the labor covenant, the section on guarantees, and the final clauses.

"Germany, by the terms of the treaty restores Alsace-Lorraine to France, accepts the internationalization of the Saar Basin temporarily, agrees to territorial changes towards Belgium and Denmark and in East Prussia, cedes most of upper Silesia to Poland and renounces all territorial and political rights outside Europe, as to her own or her allies' territory and especially to Morocco, Egypt, Siam, Liberia and Shantung. She also recognizes the total independence of German-Austria, Czechoslovakia and Poland. Her army is reduced to one hundred thousand men in peacetime, conscription within her territories is abolished; all forts fifty kilometers east of the Rhine razed; and all importation, exportation and nearly all production of war materials stopped. Allied occupation of parts of Germany will continue until reparation is made but will be reduced at the end of each of three years to one-fifth of the total. Germany is fulfilling her obligations. Any violation by Germany of the conditions as to the zone fifty kilometers east of the Rhine will be regarded as an act of war. The German navy is reduced to six battleships, six light cruisers, and twelve torpedo boats, without submarines, and a personnel of not over fifteen thousand. All other vessels must be surrendered or destroyed. Germany is forbidden to build forts controlling the Baltic, must demolish Heligoland, open the Kiel canal to all nations and surrender her fourteen submarine cables. She may have no military or naval air forces except one hundred unarmed seaplanes until October 1st to detect mines and may manufacture aviation material for six months.

"Germany accepts full responsibility for all damages caused to allied and associated governments and neutrals, agrees specifically to reimburse all civilian damages beginning with an initial payment of twenty billion marks, subsequent payments to be secured by bonds to be issued at the discretion of the reparation commission. Germany is to pay shipping damage on a ton-for-ton basis by cessation of a large part of her merchant, coasting, and river fleet and by new construction; and to devote her economic resources to the rebuilding of the devastated regions.

"She agrees to return to the nineteen fourteen most favored nation tariffs without discrimination of sort; to allow allied and associated nationals freedom of transit through her territories, and to accept highly detailed provisions as to pre-war debts, unfair competition, internationalization of roads and rivers and other economic and financial clauses. She also agrees to the trial of the ex-kaiser for an international high court for a supreme offense against international morality and of other nationals for violation of the laws and customs of war. Holland to be asked to extradite the former kaiser and Germany being responsible for delivering the latter.

"The league of nations is accepted by the allied and associated powers as operative and by Germany in principle but without membership. Similarly an international labor body is brought into being with a permanent and an annual convention. A great number of international bodies of different kinds and for different purposes are created, some under the league of nations, some to execute the peace treaty among the former is the commission to govern the Saar Basin until a plebiscite is held fifteen years hence; the high commissioner of Danzig, which is created into a free city under the league and various commissions for plebiscites in Malmedy, Schleswig and East Prussia. Among these to carry out the peace treaty are the reparations, military, naval, air, financial and economic commissions, the international high court and military tribunals to fix responsibilities and a series of bodies for the control of international rivers.

"Certain problems are left for solution between the allied and associated powers notably details of the disposition of the German fleet and cables, the former German colonies and the values paid in reparation. Certain other problems such as the laws of the air and the opium, arms and liquor traffic are either agreed to in detail or set for early international action.

"PREAMBLE: The preamble names as parties of the one part the United States, the British Empire, France, Italy and Japan, described as the five allied and associated powers and Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, China, Cuba, Ecuador, Greece, Guatemala, Haiti, The Hedjaz, Honduras, Liberia, Nicaragua, Poland, Panama, Peru, Portugal, Rumania, Serbia, Siam, Czechoslovakia and Uruguay, who with the five allied and associated powers and on the other part Germany.

"It states that: bearing in mind that on the request of the then imperial German government an armistice was granted on November 11th, Nineteen Eighteen, by the five allied and associated powers in order that a treaty of peace might be concluded with her, and whereas, the allied and associated powers being equally desirous that the war in which they were successfully involved directly or indirectly and which originated in the declaration of war by Austria Hungary on July 28th, Nineteen Fourteen against Serbia the declaration of war by Germany against Russia on August first, Nineteen Fourteen and against France on August Third, Nineteen Fourteen and in the invasion of Belgium should be replaced by a firm, just and durable peace, the plenipotentiaries (having communicated their full powers found in good and due form have agreed as follows: "From the coming into force of the present treaty the state of war will terminate. From the moment and subject to the provisions of this treaty official relations with Germany and with each of the German states, will be resumed by the allied and associated powers.

"Section One: League of nations. The covenant of the league of nations constitutes section one of the peace treaty which places upon the league many specific duties in addition to its general duties. It may question Germany at any time for a violation of the neutralized zone east of the Rhine as a threat against the world's peace. It will appoint three of the five members of the Saar commission, oversee its regime and carry out the plebiscite. It will appoint the high commissioner of Danzig, guarantee the independence of the free city and arrange for treaties between Danzig and Germany and Poland. It will work out the mandatory system to be applied to the former German colonies and act as a final court in part of the plebiscites of the Belgian-German frontier and in disputes as to the Kiel canal and decide certain of the economic and financial problems. An international conference on labor is to be held in October under its direction and another on the international control of ports, waterways and railways is fore-shadowed.

"Membership. The members of the league will be signatories of the covenant and other states invited to accede who must lodge a declaration of accession without reservation within two months. A new state, dominion or colony may be admitted provided its admission is agreed by two thirds of the assembly. A state may withdraw upon giving two years notice if it has fulfilled all its international obligations.

"Second Section—Secretariat. "A permanent secretariat will be established at the seat of the league which will be at Geneva. It will consist of representatives of the members of the league and will meet at stated intervals. Voting will be by states. Each member will have one vote and not more than three representatives.

"Council. The council will consist of representatives of the five great allied powers together with representatives of four members selected by the assembly from time to time. It may co-operate with additional states and will meet at least once a year. Members not represented will be invited to send a representative. Questions affecting the interests are discussed. Voting will be by states. Each state will have one vote and not more than one representative. Decision taken by the assembly and council must be unanimous except in regard to procedure and in certain cases specified in the covenant and in the treaty were decisions will be by majority.

"Armaments. The council will formulate plans for a reduction of armaments for consideration and adoption. These plans will be revised every ten years. Once they are adopted, no members must exceed the armaments fixed without the concurrence of the council. All members will exchange full information as to armaments and programs and a permanent commission will advise the council on military and naval questions.

"Preventing of war. Upon any war, or threat of war, the council will meet to consider what common action shall be taken. Members are pledged to arbitration or inquiry and not to resort to war until three months after the award. Members agree to carry out an arbitral award, and not to go to war with any party to the dispute which complies with it; if a member fails to carry out the award, the council will propose the necessary measures. The council will formulate plans for the establishment of a permanent court of international justice to determine international disputes or to give advisory opinions. Members who do not submit their case to arbitration must accept the jurisdiction of the assembly. If the council, less the parties to the dispute, is unanimously agreed upon the rights of the members who agree with any party to the dispute which complies with its recommendations. In this case a recognition by the assembly

Wright Denies Charges Made By Board Head

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 7.—In a statement issued tonight Omar H. Wright, state director of finance, characterized as "absolutely and unqualifiedly false" the charge made yesterday before revenue committees by William H. Malone, president of the board of equalization, that Wright "had endeavored to obtain a reduction of the capital stock assessment of the Pullman company."

"The tactics resorted to," said the statement, "wholly unfounded in fact, have but one transparent object—to distract the attention of the people and the members of the general assembly from the gross inefficiency of the state board of equalization and to perpetuate the system which has not always operated in the interest of the people."

Mr. Wright's denial followed the passage by both houses of a resolution calling for the appointment of a joint committee to investigate the methods of the board of equalization and to determine whether the board had been approached as charged by Malone. The investigation was demanded in a special message by Governor Lowder who until his coming to Springfield was a director of the Pullman company. Committees had not been named tonight.

Malone's allegations also said three other members of the equalization board had been approached to the head of the day's developments came the action of the house revenue committee which reported out with favorable action 15 to 10, the administration bills providing for abolishment of the equalization board and the creation of a state tax commission.

The senate committee took similar action yesterday. Investigation of Zion City was placed in the hands of a subcommittee of five today by Chairman Bailey of the investigating committee. A meeting will be held in Chicago Monday, it was announced by Representative Dietrich who heads the subcommittee. Other members are Senator Herlihy and Bardill and Representatives Castle and Lyon.

Representative Ronald's bills providing for trial by jury in contempt cases where the offense is committed outside the presence of the court, were reported out favorably by the house judiciary committee.

Measures authorizing a tax rate of $2.35 in Chicago and of fifty five cents in Cook county also came out of committee with favorable recommendations.

The German Samoa Islands—The mandate shall be held by New Zealand.

The other German Pacific possessions south of the equator, excluding the German Samoa Islands, shall be held by Australia.

U. S. TROOPS TO LEAVE FRANCE BY AUGUST 1

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Secretary Baker announced today that by August 1, the last man of the American expeditionary forces will have been withdrawn from France. He said this estimate was based on the movement of 300,000 men a month to the United States.

Already Mr. Baker said, the American forces in France have been divorced from the army of occupation. Plans have been completed to supply the force in Germany thru the ports of Antwerp and Rotterdam removing the necessity for maintaining the 700 mile line of communication from Brest. The French ports will be maintained however for the withdrawal of the A. E. F.

WILSON CALLS EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS

President Sends Call By Cable—Will Be Absent on Opening Day

WASHINGTON, May 7.—President Wilson issued a call by cable today for a special session of congress to meet Monday, May 19. Secretary Tumulty in making the announcement said it would be impossible of course, for the president to be here on the opening day. The date fixed for the special session was much earlier than democratic leaders had expected.

White House officials said that in naming an early date for the session President Wilson was guided largely by the advice of Secretary Glass as to the necessity of passing annual appropriation measures which failed in the closing days of the last session.

President Wilson's proclamation calling the extra session follows:

"Whereas public interests require that the congress of the United States should be convened in extra session at 12 o'clock noon, on the 19th day of May, 1919, to receive such communications as may be made by the executive;

"Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, hereby proclaim and declare that an extraordinary session of the congress of the United States to convene in extra session at the capitol in the District of Columbia on the Nineteenth day of May 1919 at 12 o'clock noon, of which all persons who shall at that time be entitled to act as members thereof are hereby required to take notice.

"Given under my hand and the seal of the United States of America the Seventh day of May in the year of Our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Nineteen, and of the Independence of the United States, the One Hundred and Forty Third.

"Woodrow Wilson. "By the President, "Robert Lansing, "Secretary of State."

There was no information at the White House either as to the probable time of the return of the president from France or the submission of the peace treaty to the senate, but some administration leaders believed the president had called the extra session earlier than had been anticipated in order that congress might perfect its organization and dispose of the more important appropriation measures before the treaty was ready for consideration.

Republicans for the house virtually have completed their organization, but the senate has done no organization work and this probably will occupy its attention for the first week of the special session. The house however can be considering the appropriation measures in the meantime. The supply bills that failed in the last congress will be introduced anew, but the secretary of the treasury has decided it will not be necessary for the government departments to submit new estimates.

Soon after the president's proclamation was made public Senator Lodge of Massachusetts the Republican leader issued a call for a Republican conference to be held May 14 for the purpose of perfecting an organization in the senate and Representative Mondell who will be Republican floor leader at the coming session announced that a conference of Republican house members would be held on May 17.

The trial of the former Kaiser for "supreme offense against international morality and the sanctity of treaties" would make interesting reading for the German people as well as for the balance of the world.

A protest against the search and seizure bill, advocated by the drys has been prepared by members of the Chicago city council favored by the well known Alderman Cernak. There could be no doubt as to the attitude of this gentleman.

While seeking economical government in the city it would be well to look a little closely into the present system of ordering cement walks laid in Jacksonville. While the city treasury has been empty it has been the policy in the past to order a new pavement laid whenever they ran out of anything else to talk about taking small heed of protests.

General Ludendorf in a recent statement regarding his attitude toward peace negotiations declared that: "German blood flowing at the front" weighed heavier than all the petty differences which brought about the formation of the new government, "and that delay meant worse terms." The general was wise for once.

The report of the Director General of railroads is not an encouraging one, as the entire loss in the fifteen months of government control is shown to be about four hundred and eighteen million dollars and a still further increase in prospect. Even the most enthusiastic advocate of government ownership cannot claim an increase of accommodations for the public.

Dr. Harker voiced the feeling of the citizens of Jacksonville in his remarks Wednesday when he gave as the slogan "faith and action and co-operation." Faith in the future of the town and united action and co-operation of its citizens in working for every enterprise and project that will tend to the up-building of the place. The time for hair splitting and division on every scheme is passing.

Members of the board of equalization are dying hard. They have organized to fight the proposed tax commission, to fight for their political jobs. The report of the house committee, favoring the change, says: Payment of taxes in Illinois is very much like passing the contribution box in church, each puts in what he pleases. Millions of dollars of property of those most able to pay escapes assessment, entirely and burden of taxation is being borne by the small owner whose ability to bear it is being strained to the breaking point. We believe that the chief difficulty is that there is no responsible head to the present system."

The attitude of President Wilson in international affairs brings out many criticisms, it is said, one faction claiming he was the cat's paw of England and France in the Italian episode and the victim of England and France in the case of the Japanese. That Clemenceau and George were opposed to going to Rome to Italy, which was not included in the secret treaty, but were also opposed to seeing Bultrio to her, altho it was included. They remained silent in the controversy and allowed Mr. Wilson to assume the burden. In the Japanese affair the president was deserted by Clemenceau and Lloyd-George and they dictated the concessions to Japan. A little later and the criticism may be more openly expressed here at home.

The city authorities have been appealed to to attempt to stop the dangerous manner in which many autos are operated on the streets of the city. There is an ordinance on the book prescribing a speed limit of fifteen miles an hour outside the business district. There is a state law to the same effect. Yet there are very few of the people running machines that pay any attention to the law. There are children of tender years trusted with powerful machines. There are unlicensed chauffeurs endangering the lives of citizens. And to add to the danger there are parents who allow their children to play in the streets. It is surprising that there are so few accidents. It has been proposed that a vigilance committee be organized of men willing to take the number of machines violating the laws, not to make arrests, but to report the names and numbers to the city authorities and to furnish the evidence in case of arrests. This might accomplish something before a few children are maimed or killed by reckless speeders. West State street might furnish enough cases to keep all the justices in the city busy for the balance of the summer and considerably to the city treasury.

MORGAN COUNTY MAINTAINS RECORD.

Morgan county has again lived up to her splendid war record. Wednesday evening Chairman Capps of the Victory Liberty Loan committee announced that Morgan county had gone "Over the Top" with an over-subscription of $85,400. With three more days of the campaign still remaining it is possible that the amount will reach $100,000.

With an apparent lack of interest in the loan campaign the past few days citizens were beginning to wonder if Morgan county was going to spoil her splendid war record of past months. The announcement of Mr. Capps was welcome news and it only emphasizes the fact that in all war endeavor Morgan county never fails.

When war was first declared Morgan county began her war contributions by sending to the army the flower of her young men. Then came the call for funds to equip these men and send them overseas. Morgan county responded nobly to every call for financial aid. In Liberty loans, war savings stamps, Y. M. C. A. Knights of Columbus, Salvation Army, war recreation funds and in fact all relief funds she has never failed.

The boys who have been in camp and "over there" have been watching our work. No doubt they are as proud of us as we are of them. Within a few days more than 100 of our boys will be in this country and a little later will be at home. When they arrive we can look them in the face with the feeling that we have done "our bit" to the utmost.

Rippling Rhymes
By Walt Mason

The Wagon.
In the past I've begged the boozers to get on the cart and ride. I have cried, "Oh, pickled snoozers, have some decency and pride. Why forever have a jag on, why be soured for evermore?" Come and mount the water wagon, I beseech and I implore! Now I need no longer worry o'er their folly and disgrace, they must ride on that old surrey, for it is a groundhog case. Soon the Rum Holes will be closing, and no sot may saunter in, there to spend the long hours dozing his old works with olland kin. Soon all barkeeps must be quitters and no more shall thirsty Jakes help themselves to brimstone till they count their private snakes. So I don't denounce the dragon till the welkin's out of plumb, of all men must ride the wagon in the happy days to come. I am done with fiery preaching, pointing out the drunkard's doom, done with begging and beseeching when a friend has nose bloom. I don't roast the brimming fagon, roast the wicker gemfahon, for all men must ride the wagon, and the time for talk is gone. There is no such thing as choosing, tho the soak be hot and sore, there has come an end to boozing, and the wagon's at the door.

He was sent to France as a member of the 127th infantry, 32nd division, and had part in a number of important battles of the latter months of the war.

MORGAN COUNTY IS "OVER THE TOP"

Chairman Capps Announced Glad News Wednesday Evening—Banks of County Subscribed Their Full Quotas—Subscriptions Will Be Received to Close of Campaign.

Chairman H. M. Capps announced Wednesday evening that Morgan county had gone "Over the Top." Not only did she go over but the quota is over-subscribed by $85,400.

Wednesday morning at eight o'clock Chairman Capps received the following telegram from Federal Director of War Loans, Compton.

St. Louis, Mo., April 6.

H. M. Capps,

Jacksonville, Ill.
I am extremely anxious that this District should secure honor of being "First Over the Top" and desire to send in complete reports not later than Thursday noon. Please wire Wednesday night your total subscriptions and pledges, including any subscriptions by banks; otherwise some other District may beat us. I am hopeful every county will send me message that full quota has been raised. It would be a great achievement and glorious example for remainder of our Nation.

COMPTON.

Federal Director War Loans.

Immediately upon receipt of the message Mr. Capps got into communication with all the banks of the county and with the exception of the Meredosia Bank, all of them subscribed the balance of their quotas not already subscribed by individuals.

This not only covers the county quota but figures a net over-subscription of $85,400 at the close of business, Wednesday, May 7. Any further subscriptions via banks that already are over their quota but figures a net over-subscription.

Active canvassing by the county organization is now unnecessary, except that subscriptions taken should be sent in promptly and any intending to subscribe may still do so thru their banks or thru the organization up to the close of the campaign Saturday, May 10.

Net gain in sales over the last report is $86,100. Published statements will be made daily up to the close of the campaign and Chairman Capps is confident that the final total will show a substantial increase over the present over-subscription. The table in detail follows:

OLD JACKSONVILLE

PRESBYTERIANISM

By Ensley Moore

(Member Illinois State Historical Society)

The Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, is the name of the great organization with which the churches of that denomination, in Jacksonville, are connected. Fortunately for the world this great power for good is not confined to our city, or county or state.

But it has had much to do in the development and betterment of the city and region. The two leading branches of this general name are the one above-named, otherwise called the Northern, and "The Presbyterian Church in the United States", known as the Southern. This division came about in connection with the War between the States.

The government of the United States of America is said to have been derived from the Constitution of this great Christian body.
If the founders of the Republic knew anything better they did not utilize it.

The General Assembly.
Soon to meet, May 15th, in St. Louis emphasizes the propie-ty of saying something regarding what this church has done for us here.

To begin with, it may be well to say that this denomination in America, and in its missionary stations throughout the world, is made up of 46 synods, 229 pres-byteries, 1,343 candidates for the ministry, 285 local evangelists, 716 licentiates, 9,751 ministers,
43,753 elders, 16,953 deacons, 9,968 churches, 1,604,045 communicants and 1,455,466 Sabbath school members, according to the report made to the Assembly of 1918. The total contributions of that year were $31,236,- 297—nto a small sum.
This comes down from five ministers, 6 churches, and * * *

The Governing Bodies.
Are the sessions, made up of the minister and elders of each church; The Presbytery made up of a minister and elder from each church—the Synod, composed of ministerial and lay delegates from each Presbytery in its jurisdiction, generally of a state, which meets in the fall each year, and, the General Assembly, composed of Commissioners based on the number of churches in each Presbytery, this Presbytery having three ministerial and three lay Commissioners.

The Assembly is presided over by a Moderator, assisted by clerks and committees in the work of the gathering, which now lasts about nine days.
Presbyterians in Jacksonville.
The First Presbyterian church of Morgan county was organized June 30, 1827, in Judge John Leeper's barn, in the south-east part of our present city, by the Rev. John Brich, an Englishman.
It had twelve members.
John Leeper and William C.
Posey were the first elders.
The church met until 1831 in the well known log school house, in the southeast part of the town, about where the Lutheran church is now. The people of the First built a manse for the pastor, near the northwest corner of West State and Church streets before their church, and this cared for their pastor, the Rev.
John M. Ellis and his family.
The terminal part of the name of the organization was soon changed by "Jacksonville" being substituted for "Morgan County."

The First built at the northwest corner of West State and church streets, its first house of worship, which still stands in the north end of that lot. In 1848 the people moved into a larger and finer building on the lot at the southeast corner of State and West streets. It burned in December, 1861, and in January, 1867, a newer and finer edifice was occupied on the same site.
That burned in September, 1883, and that congregation then built the house at the northeast corner of State and Church streets.

In 1828 there was a division in the church in the United States, one body becoming known as the New School and the other as the Old School branch.

Soon after the division, the Second, or Old School church built, on the lot just opposite the site of the Journal office now.
In 1870 the two bodies were re-united and soon the late Old School church, known as the Central built what is now the Baptist church, at the northwest corner of State and Church streets.
In 1885, the First and Central churches were united and occupied the building known as State Street Church.

Meantime, in May, 1860,
Westminster Church,
Was organized and built a home, thus being now the oldest organization of Presbyterians here, at the northeast corner of West College avenue, and Westminster street. This building and "the adjacent schoolhouse," as Dr. Hamilton, the first pastor, used to call it, lasted, with several improvements, until Easter Sunday in 1900, when the present stone edifice was dedicated.
In 1890 a creditable manse was erected, adjoining the church on the east. It is to be noted that Westminster had the first stone church here.

After the union of the First and Central churches there were some members of the latter who did not care to go into the new body, and they were organized into the Jacksonville Presbyterian church, which continued until about 1897, when it was dissolved; they selling their house the Central church building, to the First Baptist society.

Northminster Church.
A colony of Portuguese people came here, in 1849, from the Island of Madeira, many of them being Presbyterians. They erected a building on Jordan street, another on West North near Church street, and still another on Church at the end of Jordan street. These people united in Jordan street, and about fifteen years ago, in Northminster church, and erected their handsome home at the Northeast corner of Court and Fayette streets, Illinois College.

In January, 1828, the Rev.
John M. Ellis and the Rev.
Thomas Lippincott rode into this town, Mr. Ellis particularly bent on finding a site for an institution of learning. He selected College hill as the place, purchased some ground, and in 1829 a part of "Beecher Hall" was erected, and Illinois College was the result, opened as such January 4, 1830, and being the first college in Illinois.

Mr. Ellis, on that same trip, went on to Springfield, and there organized the First Presbyterian church of that place.

Jacksonville Female Academy.

Mrs. Ellis, wife of the pastor of the First Presbyterian church,
was of like mind with her husband, and she began a girl's school in her own house, which led up to the establishment of Jacksonville Female Academy,
the first higher school for women west of Ohio. Mrs. Ellis' maiden name was Frances Celeste Brard. These two institutions were chartered by the State in 1835.

The history of Illinois cannot be written without extended mention of them, and of their wonderful work. They made Jacksonville a beacon of religious and educational hope for the "Far West" of that day, and their existence was destined "to bless the West for all time." And not alone the West, but parts of the whole world have been benefited thereby.

The Reverend Doctors Robert
W. Patterson and Henry A. Nelson graduates of Illinois College have been Moderators of the U. S. Y.
General Assembly, and now it seems as if the first lay Moderator would also be a graduate of "the College on the Hill."

sion. We have demanded such an inquest and we repeat this demand.

"On the fifth of October, 1918, the German government proposed the principles of the president of the United States as the basis of peace and on the fifth of November their secretary of state, Mr. Lansing, declared that the allied and associated powers agreed to this basis with two definite deviations. The principles of President Wilson have thus become binding to both parties to the war—for you as well as for us and also for our former allies. The various principles demand from us heavy national and economic sacrifices but the holy fundamental rights of all peoples are protected by this treaty.

"You will find us ready to examine upon this basis the preliminary peace which you have proposed to us with a firm intention of rebuilding in common, work with you that which which has been destroyed and despairing any wrong that may have been committed principally the wrong to Belgium and show to mankind new aims of political and social program.

"Considering the tremendous quantity of problems which arise we ought as soon as possible make an examination of the principal tasks by special commissions of experts on the basis of the treaty which you have proposed to us.

"As our next aim, I consider the reconstruction of the territories of Belgium and Northern France which have been occupied by us and which have been destroyed by war. This task we cannot do without the cooperation of our former adversaries. It would be the worst method to have the work done by German prisoners of war. Certainly this work is cheap but it would cost the world dear if hatred and despair shall seize the German people when they consider that their brothers, sons and fathers who are prisoners are kept prisoners beyond the preliminary peace in the former penal work.

"Without any immediate solution of this question which had been drawn out too long we cannot come to a durable peace. Experts of both sides will have to examine how the German people may come up to their financial obligations to repair, without succumbing under their heavy burden. A crash would draw after it irretrievable disorder if the whole European economical system.

"The vanquishers as well as the vanquished peoples must guard against this menacing danger with its incalculable consequences. There is only one means of banishing it—unlimited confessions of the economic and social solidarity of all the peace in a free and rising league of nations.

"The sublime thought to be derived from the most terrible disaster in the history of mankind is the league of nations. Only if the gates of the league of nations are thrown open to all who are of good will can the aim be attained.

"The German people are ready to take upon themselves their heavy lot if the basis of peace which have been established are not anymore shaken.

"The peace which may not be defended in the name of right before the world always calls forth new resistance against it.

"We shall examine the document handed to us with good will and in the hope that the final result of our interview may be subscribed to by all of us."

THREE POWERS DICUSS DEFENSIVE ALLIANCE

PARIS, May 7.—(By The Associated Press.)—Reports of an alliance between the United States, France and Great Britain, supplementing the peace treaty, have, developed the fact that while no offensive or defensive alliance is contemplated yet the chiefs of the three governments are discussing such a pact or an agreement to meet the French demand for military security against renewed German aggression. Such a plan would, if formulated, be submitted to the United States congress for such action as congress might see fit to take. It is said that this is in no sense a treaty.

If finally concluded this supplemental agreement will be separate from the treaty itself and will be made public.

The discussion of this subject continued today at the session of the council of three.

NAME AUSTRIAN DELEGATION

Copenhagen, May 7.—The Austrian peace delegation has been named, according to despatches from Vienna. It is composed of Dr. Franz Klein, president; Prof. Henrich Lammasch, former Austrian premier; Prof. Von Laun, who was Austrian delegate to the conference of the league of nations societies at Bern; under-Secretary Fluegel and Deputies Ludgeman and Stegliger.

ITALIAN PREMIER ARRIVES IN PARIS

PARIS, May 7.—Vittorio Orlando, the Italian premier and Baron Sonnino, the foreign minister arrived in Paris from Rome this morning.

The Italian premier arrived at the Paris "white house" just as the council of four re-assembled and resumed his seat in the council.

SAY HUNS WILL NOT PAY AN IDEMUNITY

PARIS, May 7.—The German delegates to the peace congress declare that they will sign a peace treaty but that Germany will not pay an indemnity.

In the discussion of peace terms by Germany through both her official and unofficial spokesmen she has invariably drawn a distinction between reparation and indemnity, construing the latter in effect as punitive damages. It seems probable therefore that the refusal to pay an "indemnity" would mean in effect that she would decline to pay what she regarded as such damages.

VOTE TO STRIKE.

Rockford, Ill., May 7.—A vote to strike tomorrow morning was recorded tonight by 2,500 men and 200 women of the machinists' union employees of 30 shops. They demand recognition of the union, increased wages, an eight hour day with weekly pay day. Thirty members of the Iron Moulders' Union are on strike for an eight hour day.

Washington, May 7.—The best reports of the entire Victory Liberty Loan campaign reached the treasury today. Total subscriptions were raised to $2,438,663,000 or 59 per cent of the quota. The overnight increase was $398,000,000 of which $237,000,000 came from the New York district.

OFFICIAL WASHINGTON RESERVES COMMENT

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Official Washington was reserving comment on the peace treaty tonight while carefully scanning the official summary.

In congress where the treaty must run the gauntlet of the senate's ratification both the leaders who are expected to oppose it and those who are expected to support it were holding back statements. Some statements were promised tomorrow.

One expression here generally in government circles, however, was that the summary justified the great majority of the press dispatches from Paris in the last five months.

Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska said he would wait until tomorrow before making a statement. At the home of Senator Lodge it was said that the senator wanted to see the full text before commenting upon it.

Comment also was withheld by Senator Borah of Idaho, Senator Johnson of California and others.

STEAMER HAS FIRE IN HOLD

London, May 7.—The liner Adriatic which left New York April 28, passed Brownhead at seven o'clock Tuesday evening with a fire in her cargo, according to a wireless message received here from the steamer at Valencia, Ireland and transmitted here. The message said that the bunker hold had been sealed up.

No Mention of Fire.

New York, May 7.—The Adriatic docked in Liverpool this morning, according to a cablegram received at the White Star Company's offices here. Officials of the company said this message made no mention of any fire. They expressed opinion any such incident must have been a minor one.

HEALTH PROMOTION WEEK

The space today is occupied so much with the peace treaty that there is no room for anything else in detail. This is to remind the readers of the Journal that preparations are still going on for the week and the effort will be to have it a success in every way.

FIVE TRANSPORTS SAIL

Washington, May 7.—Sailing of five transports with 8,500 officers and men was announced today by the war department. Units of the 29th, 32nd, 82nd, and 83rd divisions are on board the ships which are due to arrive in New York and Boston between May 14 and 20.

NO INDICATION OF HASTE.

Paris, May 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—There is no indication that President Wilson contemplates hasten his return because of the convocation of congress and he probably will remain here thru the period of fifteen days allowed the Germans for consideration of the peace terms. In case the negotiations are prolonged it is possible he may forgo the satisfaction of signing the treaty and return home.

NOW OPEN TO PUBLIC

New Establishment of John G. Reynolds at 331-3 West State Street Now Open for Inspection—Chapel is of Kind Not Seen Outside Large Cities.

The public is invited to call and inspect the new undertaking establishment recently opened by John G. Reynolds at 331-3 West State Street. The rooms have been decorated and furnished in simple but beautiful way and the work has been to appeal to those who desire service of the best. Special attention has been paid to the finishing of the display room and chapel, and these are models of their kind. The chapel is finished entirely in mahogany and is supplied with seats of the stationery type. The lighting is especially worthy of note, the subdued effect so desirable in a room of this kind being obtained by the most approved methods. The fixtures are very beautiful, being adaptations of medieval designs in wrought iron and antique gold. The whole room has an aspect of elegance and good taste. Mr. Reynolds is furnishing the use of this chapel, together with the organ and organist absolutely without charge, and the city is to be congratulated upon possessing a mortuary and a chapel of a kind seldom seen outside the larger cities.

OBITUARY

The death of Michael Edward Carrigan occurred at the family home in Ayrshire, Iowa, on Monday, April 28. The deceased was a brother of Mrs. Mollie Kopp and Patrick Carrigan of this city and was a resident here a number of years ago. Funeral services were conducted from the Sacred Heart church at 10 o'clock a. m., Tuesday, April 29, in charge of Rev. Father Lynch. Interment was in Calvary cemetery at Ayrshire, and the bearers were Chris Thompson, Wm. Thompson, E. C. Knox, Albert Reno, John McBride, and M. B. Kane.

The deceased had been in ill health for a number of months prior to his death and the end was therefore not unexpected. More than fifteen years ago Mr. Carrigan suffered a stroke of paralysis and although he seemingly recovered from the stroke, he never fully regained his normal health. For the last three months of his life the deceased had been confined to his bed.

Michael Edward Carrigan was born in this city March 24, 1873, and was a member of one of the well known families of the county. He was united in marriage on October 21, 1903, to Miss Litta Thompson at Rolfe, Iowa, and they were the parents of two daughters, Katherine and June Helen. In 1909 Mr. Carrigan located in Ayrshire, Iowa, and embarked in the hotel business. He succeeded well in this undertaking and later added a confectionery and pool hall. About three years ago Mr. Carrigan erected a fine brick hotel building and at the time of his death had one of the finest hostilities in the state. Although unable to leave his bed, yet he managed the various phases of the business in a capable manner. He was a man of fine character, absolutely fair and generous in all his dealings. His going will mean a distinct loss to the business and civic life of his home city.

The deceased was a member of the Catholic church and lived and died in the faith. He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Katherine and June Helen Carrigan; one sister, Mrs. Mollie Kopp of this city; three brothers, Patrick of this city; John of Fort Dodge, Iowa and James of Ayrshire, Iowa, together with a number of other relatives.

MAY DAY PAGEANT

The annual May Day pageant of Illinois Woman's College will be given on the College Campus Monday afternoon, May 12th, at 6:30 o'clock. The scene is laid in Fairy Land and the event is the crowning of the Queen of the May. The story of the program is as follows:

Two children wandering in their dreams have found their ideal, Beauty, and wandering with her throughout the woodland, they come upon a beautiful cleared space within which a terraced throne has been placed. They are delighted with the scene and decide to place Beauty upon the throne. It seems that the Fairy Folk have prepared this place for their May Day Festival, over which their King presides to crown the loveliest Queen of the May. The King arrives at the appointed time, just before sunset, and finds his throne occupied by this fair usurper, but he is so pleased with her beauty that he asks her to remain there during the dances and places himself at her feet. The Fairy Folk soon appear, one group after another, and join in the Festivity. The King grants their request, the other dances follow. Finally, the Sunset Fairy appears and at the end of her dance, reports that the Fairy people are ready for their King's decision. He reviews them all but finds none of them so lovely as Beauty who sits upon his throne. He, therefore, crowns her Queen of the May and takes her off to his palace with his Fairy subjects for the Annual Banquet.

But the Children are left out, and finding it growing late, hurry away to their homes.

Frances Wilkinson as Mab of the Fairies does a solo dance. Vera Wardner takes the part of the Sunset Fairy. The order in which the group dances occur is: Meadow Elves, Sun Fairies, the Two Mortal Children, River Sprites, the King's Jesters, Mab of the Fairies, Spring Flowers, Pines of Pines, Gnomes the Spirits of the Wind, and the Sunset Fairy. There is to be some pantomime between the Mortal Children and the King's party.

Zerita Schwartz was chosen Queen of the May by the student body and Mary McGhee, King of the Fairies. Maurice Gifford is chairman of the May Day Committee, of which Laila Skinner has charge of the music, Vera Wardner the dances, Merle Terhune the costumes, with Miss Taylor and Miss Stanwood as advisers.

The program is open to the public.

The Wednesday Class met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. C. A. Barnes, 843 West State street, with a large attendance of members. It was the last meeting of the year and the program was planned by Mrs. Carl Black, Mrs. U. G. Woodman and Miss Maria Fairbank.

Mrs. W. A. Bancroft, president of the class, was in the chair, and Dr. Garm. Norbury gave an address on Red Cross base hospitals in France and their work. Dr. Norbury told in an interesting manner of his embarkation on the Leviathan, the largest ship afloat. His description of life aboard the transport and of the ship itself was graphic. At the debarkation point the vessel was so large that it could not get up to the dock and the men were taken off in ferry boats.

Dr. Norbury also told of the base hospitals in France and the manner in which they were conducted. His address contained much of an informing nature and was greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. Koehne delivered an address along the lines of W. C. T. U. activities, in which she takes great interest. Her husband, Rev. J. B. Koehne, D. D., LL. D., is a man of considerable note as a lecturer, he having been located here during the absence of Rev. Ewert. At the meeting Tuesday afternoon there were two vocal numbers by Miss Bird Duncan, with Mrs. Laura Pritchett as accompanist, artistically rendered. It was announced that Mrs. Minnie Coventry, a state W. C. T. U. worker will speak at the First Baptist church on Sunday afternoon, May 19, at 3 o'clock, along the line of reconstruction.

EARTH BROKEN FOR DAM WEDNESDAY

Ceremonies Were Simple But Impressive—Dr. J. R. Harker Presided and a Number Turned a Shovel of Earth.

Yesterday witnessed the beginning of what is hoped by every patriotic person will prove the beginning of a new epoch in Jacksonville when the first shovel of earth was dug for the new impounding reservoir. From the manner in which water was rushing over the dam at the pumping works there is no longer a question of a city water supply when once the new improvement is completed.

Fifty-one years ago Prof. Crampton, Robert White, a college student, and the writer, made the first survey for water works in Jacksonville. The late Joseph O. King was the father of the enterprise and the survey was for the purpose of getting a bid on a system so that the matter could be placed concretely before the people then. The history of water in Jacksonville since that time is interesting but out of places here and the pressure of other matters makes an account of the exercises yesterday shorter than would otherwise be the case.

A large gathering assembled and Contractor Walbridge made a temporary bridge over the dam and on the slope of the hill opposite the exercises took place. Very fittingly Dr. Harker presided for much of the success of the enterprise is due to his efforts ably assisted by the other members of the committee and the city council.

A brief account of the affair is given. Dr. Harker said: I am happy indeed to be here and realize a long time dream for city's welfare. One man more than any one else has worked for this great project early and late and to him belongs the credit. I refer to ex-Mayor Rodgers.

Mayor Rodgers said: I hardly claim all that the doctor said. This is surely a great day for Jacksonville. All great things have a beginning and an ending as well. Fifty years ago the city began to plant seed for a water system and now we are about to begin the greatest enterprise yet which means so much for our place. I did my little part and so did the members of the water committee. It took lots of hard work to bring about this consummation and now it seems in sight. Dr. Harker said this was not a new plan. When the members of the legislature were here, Dr. Young of Chicago said, "Why didn't you think of this plan before?"

Helped Survey For First Plant. Dr. Harker called on S. W. Nichols, the only one left who was on hand when the first works were started. He said, When I remember the first survey made here which I helped make it seems like a dream. It took three years to get the first water works system going and there was a hard time indeed. I am the only one left of the men who pushed it from the beginning.

They asked different ones how much water the city would use and some said the amount might in time go to 120,000 galls a day. Today it seems as if I were in a dream from which I am to have a rude awakening; it seems almost too good to be true. I well recall the fall from the top of college hill, 106.48 feet. The first work was done under a Chicago engineer named Cheesebrough. The grand possibilities before us are boundless.

Dr. Harker said he had had many dreams but they were day time ones and one by one had come true and this was one. He felt the day of faith had come. There had been too much pessimism in the past, now our faces should be set toward the rising sun. Good things are coming; the Eli Bridge Co.; the recent elections were fine; the breaking of ground for the soldiers monument; all are in the right direction. This will be one of the finest inland lakes in Illinois. We shall be united in one ideal city. We have been to much divided and now I ask you all to pledge yourselves to stand by the work; not to criticize unkindly but to help all possible. The pledged.

Turning the Sod.

Dr. Harker then grasped the shovel and remarked that he had spent thirteen years of his life with a shovel but in different material and then cast forth the first bit of earth for the new dam.

On behalf of the former city council Mr. Rodgers next handled the shovel and very well considering his broken arm. He was followed by Joshua Vasconcellos, William Widmayer and Perry White. For the press Mrs. Danks and S. W. Nichols.

Dr. Harker deeply regretted the absence of Mayor Crabtree who would have been so glad to be there and had ever shown such a progressive spirit. Aldermen M. McGinnis, George Moore, T. A. Chapin, A. E. Williamson, Charles Graff, of the present city council wielded the shovel and Contractor Walbridge followed them. Of the water committee Messrs. Maurice Fitch and J. W. Merrigan shovelled. Then the park board members present, Mrs. George Hollinger and Mrs. A. Wehl. The latter said she had come from a town that had plenty of water and was glad now to see that Jacksonville would have the same. For the Chamber of Commerce Mr. Fritch threw some sod remarking that he hoped for great things that the work would be first class. Dr. Harker then said one man had wrought nobly for the cause though he was now on foreign soil and when he returned he could claim the titles of Mayor and of Sir Carl E. Black, knighted by the king of Greece, and he would cast a shovel full for him.

The company then went to the top of the hill to view the prospect and see the fine six teams of horses begin actual work. All the earth thrown was from the part to be excavated so that it helped so much. The shovel used is described by point D shovel. Dr. Harker said he would have it suitably adorned and then it would be kept at the city council rooms as a souvenir. All the shovelers made suitable remarks but there is not space for them.

TERMS OF SALE CASH. A LOT OF SHOES. In the store of Mathis, Kamm & Shibe yesterday was a representative of the McElwain Shoe Co. of Boston. He said his house had a capacity of 54,000 pairs of men's shoes daily and were working up to it right along. He said a while back when so many men were in the army the company employed some new men and in two weeks the mistakes of the green help caused the company a loss of $25,000. One can't help wondering how our forefathers managed when all the footwear was made by hand on benches. Those were the good days when styles remained the same from years to year and shoes were cared for. Many a time good people went barefoot to church carrying their shoes which they put on just before arriving and removing them after service.

MOTHERS' DAY. SUNDAY, MAY 11th. In addition to the beginning of health promotion week next Sunday will be Mothers' Day and each loyal son is supposed to wear a white flower in honor of her who gave him birth. No special arrangements have been made as far as known but something will probably be done regarding the matter and if not then at least every man and boy as well as girls and women should try to wear a white flower.

All ships used for inland navigation taken by Germany from the allies are to be restored within two months, the amount of loss not covered by such restitution to be made up by the cession of the German river fleet up to twenty per cent thereof.

Germany renounces all right of representation on, or control of state banks commission or other similar international financial and economic organizations. The cost of reparations shall be charged against the next provision for payment for imports as the allies may deem necessary.

Germany confirms the renunciation of the treaties of Bucharest and Brest-Litovsk.

On the request of the reparations commission Germany will appropriate any rights or interests of her nationals in public utilities in ceded territories or those administered by mandatories and in Turkey, China, Russia, Austria-Hungary and Bulgaria and transfer them to the reparations commission which will credit her with their value.

Germany guarantees to repay to Brazil the fund arising from the sale of Sao Paulo coffee which she refused to allow Brazil to withdraw from Germany.

SECTION EIGHT Economic Clauses.

Customs. For a period of six months Germany shall impose no tariff duties higher than the lowest in force in Nineteen Fourteen and for certain agricultural products, wines, vegetable oils, artificial silk and washed or scoured wool this restriction obtains for two and a half years or for five years unless first extended by the league of nations. Germany must give most favored nation treatment to the allied and associated powers. She shall impose no customs tariff for five years on goods originating in Alsace-Lorraine and for three years on goods originating in former German territory ceded to Poland with the right of observation of a similar exception for Luxembourg.

Ships of the allied and associated powers shall for five years and therefore under condition of reciprocity, unless the league of nations otherwise decides, enjoy the same right in German ports as German vessels and have most favored nation treatment in fishing, coasting trade and towage even in territorial waters. Ships of countries having no sea coast may be restored at some one place within its territory.

Unfair competition. Germany undertakes to give the trade of the allied and associated powers adequate safeguards against unfair competition and in particular to suppress the use of false wrappings and markings and on condition of reciprocity to respect the laws and judicial decisions of allied and associated states, in respect of regional appellations of wines and spirits.

Treatment of nationals. Germany shall impose no exceptional taxes or restriction upon the nationals of the allied and associated states for a period of five years and unless the league of nations acts for an additional five years German nationality shall not continue to attach to a person who has become a national of an allied or associated state.

Multilateral conventions. Some forty multilateral conventions are renewed between Germany and the allied and associated powers but special conditions are attached to Germany's re-admission to several. As to postal and telegraphic conventions Germany must not refuse to make reciprocal agreements with the new states. She must agree as respects the radio telegraphic convention provisions of the convention communicated to her and there in the new convention when formulated. In the North Sea fisheries and North Sea liquor traffic convention, rights of inspection and police over fishing boats shall be exercised for at least five years only by vessels of these powers. As to the international railway union she shall adhere the new convention when formulated.

China. As to the Chinese customs tariff arrangement the arrangement of Nineteen Hundred and Five regarding Whampoo and the Boxer indemnity of Nineteen Hundred and One.

France, Portugal and Roumania, as to the Hague convention of Nineteen Hundred and Three, relating to civil procedure; and Great Britain and the United States as to Article Three of the Samoan treaty of Eighteen Ninety Nine are relieved of all obligation toward Germany.

Bilateral Treaties.

Each allied and associated state may renew any treaty with Germany insofar as consistent with the peace treaty by giving notice within six months. Treaties entered into by Germany since August 1st, 1914, with other enemy states and before or since that date with Roumania, Russia are abrogated and any concession granted under pressure by Russia to German subjects annulled. The allied and associated states are to enjoy most favored nation treatment under treaties entered into by Germany and neutral states during the war.

Pre-War Debts.

A system of clearing houses is to be created within three months one in Germany and one in each allied and associated state which adopts the plan for the payment of pre-war debts including those arising from contracts suspended by the war for the adjustment of the proceeds of the liquidation of enemy property and the settlement of other obligations. Each participating state assumes responsibility for the payment of all debts owing by its nationals to nationals of the enemy states except in cases of pre-war insolvency of the debtor. The proceeds of the sale of private enemy property in each participating state may be used to pay the debts owed to the nationals of that state direct payment from debtor to creditor and all communications relating thereto being prohibited. Disputes may be settled by arbitration by the courts of the debtor country or by the mixed arbitral tribunal. Any allied or associated power, may however, decline to participate in this system by giving Germany six months notice.

Enemy Property.

Germany shall restore or pay for all private enemy property seized or damaged by her the amount of damages to be fixed by the mixed arbitral tribunal. The allied and associated states may liquidate German private property within their territories as compensation for property of their nationals not restored or paid for by Germany for debts owed to their nationals or other claims against Germany. Germany is to compensate its relating to and to deliver within six months all documents relating to property held by its nationals in allied and associated states. All war legislation as to enemy property rights and interests is confirmed. All claims by Germany against allied or associated governments for acts under exceptional war measures abandoned.

Contracts.

Pre-war contracts between allied and associated nationals excepting the United States, Japan and Brazil and German nationals are cancelled except for debts for accounts already performed, agreements for the transfer of property where the property had already passed leases of land and houses, contracts of mortgages, pledges or lien, mining concessions, contracts with governments and insurance contracts. Fixed arbitral tribunals shall be established of three members one chosen by Germany one by the allied states and a third by agreement or failing which by the president of Switzerland. They shall have jurisdiction over all disputes as to contracts concluded before the present peace treaty. Five insurance contracts are not considered dissolved by the war even if premiums have not been paid, but lapse at the date of the first annual premium falling due three months after the peace. Life insurance contracts may be restored by payments of accumulated premiums with interest, sums falling due on such contracts during the war to be recoverable with interest. Marine insurance contracts are dissolved by the outbreak of war except where the risk insured against had already been incurred. Where the risk had not attached, premiums paid are recoverable otherwise premiums due and sums due on losses are recoverable. Reinsurance treaties are abrogated unless invasion has made it impossible for the reinsured to find another reinsurer.

Any allied or associated power however, may cancel all the contracts running between its nationals and a German life insurance company the latter being obliged to hand over the proportion of its assets attributable to such policies.

Industrial Property Rights.

As to industrial, literary and artistic property are re-established, the special war measures of the allied and associated powers are ratified and the rights reserved to impose conditions on the use of German patents and copyrights when in the public interests, except as between the United States and Germany pre-war licenses and rights to use for infringements committed during the war are cancelled.

Section Nine.

Opium. The contracting powers agree, whether or not they have signed and ratified the opium convention of January 23rd, 1912, or signed the special protocol opened at The Hague in accordance with resolutions adopted by the third opium conference in 1914, to bring the said convention into force by enacting within twelve months of the peace and necessary legislation.

Religious Missions. The allied and associated powers agree that the properties of religious missions in territories belonging or ceded to them shall continue in their work under the control of the powers. Germany renouncing all claims in their behalf.

Aerial Navigation. Aircraft of the allied and associated powers shall have full liberty of passage and landing over and in German territory equal treatment with German planes as to use of German airdromes and with most favored nation planes as to international commercial traffic in Germany. Germany agrees to accept certificates of nationality, airworthiness or competency or licenses and to apply the convention relative to aerial navigation concluded between the allied and associated powers to her own aircraft over her own territory. These rules apply until 1923 unless Germany has since been admitted to the league of nations or to the above convention.

Freedom of Transit. Germany must grant freedom of transit thru her territory by rail or water to persons, goods, ships, carriages and mail from or to any of the allied or associated powers without customs or transit duties, no delays, restrictions, or discriminations based on nationality means of transport, or place of entry or departure. Goods in transit shall be assured all possible speed of journey, especially perishable goods.

Germany may not divert traffic from its normal course in favor of her own transport routes or maintain "control stations" in connection with transshipment traffic. She may not establish any tax discrimination against the ports of allied or associated powers; must grant the latter's seaports, all factors and reduced tariffs granted her own or other nationals and afford the allied and associated powers with those of her own nationals in her ports and waterways, save that she is free to open or close her maritime coasting trade.

Free Zones in Ports. Free zones existing in German ports on August 1st, 1914, must be maintained with due facilities as to warehouses and packing, without discrimination and without charges except for expenses of administration and use. Goods leaving the free zones for consumption in Germany and goods brought into the free zones from Germany shall be subject to the ordinary import and export taxes.

International Rivers. The Elbe from the junction of the Vltava, from Prague, the Oder from Oppa, the Nieman from Grodno and the Danube from Ulmare declared international, together with their confluents. The Riparian states must ensure good conditions of navigation within their territories unless a special organization exists therefore. Otherwise appeal may be had to a special tribunal of the league of nations which also may range for general international waterways convention.

The Elbe and the Oder are to be placed under international commissions to meet within three months that for the Elbe composed of four representatives of Germany, two from Czechoslovakia and one from Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium and that for the Oder composed of one each from Poland, Russia, Czechoslovakia, Great Britain, France, Denmark and Sweden. If and Riparian state on the Niewen should so request of the league of nations, a similar commission shall be established there. These commissions shall upon request of any Riparian state meet within three months to revise existing international agreement.

The Danube. The European Danube commission resumes its pre-war powers, but for the first time with representatives of only Great Britain, Italy and Roumania. The upper Danube is to be administered by a new international commission until a definitive state be drawn up at a conference of the powers nominated by the allied and associated

It is interesting to note how people talk of the Hupmobile as tho it were an unusual kind of a motor car, in a class of its own.

Hupmobile

It is not classed as a four-cylinder car, but almost always referred to in terms of its remarkable performance.

It would be hard to convince most Hupmobile owners that four-cylinders, in some other car, could equal their Hupmobile performance.

The explanation is, of course, that such results are not usual in the four-cylinder type.

Were it not for the refinements of eleven years, the Hupmobile would be merely a good four-cylinder car — but not The Comfort Car.

governments within one year after the peace.

The enemy governments shall make full reparations for war damages caused to the European commission, shall cede their river facilities in surrendered territory and give Czechoslovakia, Serbia and Roumania any rights necessary on their shores for carrying out improvements in navigation.

In the Rhine and the Moselle. The Rhine is placed under the central commission to meet at Strasbourg within six months after the peace and to be composed of four representatives of France which shall in addition select the president, four of Germany, and two each of Great Britain, Italy, Belgium, Switzerland and the Netherlands. Germany must give France on the course of the Rhine included between the two extreme points of her frontiers all rights to take water to feed canals while herself agreeing not to make canals on the right bank opposite France. She must also hand over to France all her drafts and designs for this part of the river.

Section Ten.

Belgium is to be permitted to build a deep draft Rhine-Meuse canal if she so desires within twenty five years in which case Germany must construct the part within her territory on plans drawn by Belgium, similarly the interested allied governments may construct a Rhine-Meuse canal, both if constructed to come under the competent international commission. Germany may not object if the central Rhine commission desires to extend its jurisdiction over the lower Moselle the upper Rhine, or lateral canals.

Germany must cede to the allied and associated governments certain tags, vessels and facilities for navigation on all these rivers, the specific details to be established by arbiters named by the United States. Decision will be based on the legitimate needs of the parties concerned and on the shipping traffic during the five years before the war. The value will be included in the regular reparation account. In the case of the Rhine shares in the German navigation companies and property such as wharves and warehouses held by Germany in Rotterdam at the outbreak of the war must be handed over.

Railways. Germany in addition to most favored nation treatment on her railways agrees to co-operate in the establishment of thru ticket services for passengers and baggage; to insure communication by rail; to allow the construction or improvement within twenty five years or such lines as necessary; to conform her rolin stock to enable its incorporation in trains of the allied or associated powers. She also agrees to accept the denunciation of the St. Gothard convention if Switzerland and Italy so request and temporarily to execute instructions as to the transport of troops and supplies and the establishment of military lines.

EXTRA LONG WEAR FROM SHOES

T. D. Collins of Ooala, Hawaii, makes a remarkable statement which demonstrates the money-saving durability of Neolin Soles.

He writes, "After wearing a pair of Neolin-soled shoes off and on for thirty-three months, I wore them on a trip to the volcano of Kilauaea and walked around the crater over hot lava six times and still the soles showed only slight signs of wear."

This experience is not accidental. It results from the scientific process by which Neolin Soles are made to be exactly what soles should be—comfortable, waterproof and exceedingly economical because of the long wear they give.

Get them on new shoes for all members of the family and have them put on worn shoes. They are made by The Goodrich Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels, guaranteed to outwear any other heels.
